honors Arathi Krishna

Arathi Krishna receives New York Tamil Sangam's Award of Excellence for her service to the community and the promotion of the culture of the New York Tamil Sangam.

here recently, Mr. Albert Mendonca, president of the New York Tamil Sangam, said Ms Krishna has done a lot of service to the community and has served as a link between the community organizations and the government of India. Her recent tour of different cities in the US to promote Pravasi Bharatiya Day to be held in Chennai between 2008 and 2009 proved her commitment to connect the communities and make the conclave a success. She has been contacting all the prominent Tamil leaders in the US and inviting them to attend the convention. "We are happy and proud to present this award of excellence to her for her sincere commitment and helping hand provided to those in need," he said. Prakaash M. Swami, NYTS Secretary, introduced Ms Krishna and spoke about her stellar role in the Ministry.

religious belief" and a tableau depicting birth of Christmas was staged by Jossie Mendonca as Joseph, Vanessa Mendonca as Mother Mary, Stan Mendonca & Joey as Wisemen; Luella Mendonca and Shawn as Sheperds; Jason, Adriana, Nicole Mendonca as little Angels. The play scene captured lot of attention from the audience. The event was organized by the Chicago Science Museum. Committee chairperson and founder president of the Chicago Science Museum Dr. Austin Prabhu introduced the performers of the play. Vissia D'Souza, Secretary, MKCA proposed a vote of thanks. Vissia thanked everyone especially Darrel Mascarenhas who played the instruments for the Choir, Dorothy Rego for heading the Choir group, Fr. Richie Vaz for his initiative in organizing a beautiful program. Vissia also invited everyone to join the MKCA Christmas celebration to be held on December 20, 2008 at St. Timothy's Church, 6326 N. Wastanaw Ave., Chicago, IL 60659. The Holy Mass will be celebrated in Konkani. A traditional Mangalorean food will be served and "Kuswar" will be distributed to all the participants present. As always, Santa Claus will provide gifts to all the children present. It looks like the spirit of Christmas is alive not only at the Museum of Science and Industry but also in the hearts of people of Chicago who have their roots around the world.
